3rd GROUP ART EXHIBITION

Rajkumar Sharma
Editor & Publisher,
Kala Samvad Mumbai (India)

Organizer's Note:

Kala Samvad presents its 3rd one-day group art exhibition on 24th April 2026 at Taj Art Gallery, located within the iconic The Taj Mahal Palace. This edition brings together emerging and established artists on a shared platform dedicated to visibility, branding, and cultural exchange. The initiative aims to strengthen professional opportunities, encourage dialogue, and connect artists with collectors, patrons, and art enthusiasts in a prestigious and inspiring environment rooted in artistic heritage.

We also pay a humble tribute to Late Ram V. Sutar, India's renowned sculptor and Padma Shri & Padma Bhushan awardee, whose work continues to inspire generations.

Curator Note :

The third edition of this non-curated group exhibition brings together emerging and established artists, celebrating diversity, individuality, and artistic freedom. Hosted at Taj Art Gallery, within The Taj Mahal Palace, it evolves into a space for dialogue, cultural exchange, and refined aesthetic experience. Artists present their work independently, encouraging authenticity and direct engagement while enhancing professional visibility and connections with collectors and patrons. Ultimately, the exhibition goes beyond showcasing art—it cultivates artistic presence, celebrating creativity, ambition, and the evolving identity of contemporary art.

Nandoo Sarswati
Artist & Art Curator (MFA)
Sir J. J. School of Art, Mumbai)

Harshit R. Sharma
Creative Concept Designer
Team Kala Samvad

Concept Note :

Creative Concept Designer's Note: The visual communication for this exhibition is designed to maintain a consistent and refined identity across all platforms, including publicity, social media, catalog, and public relations. Every design element reflects clarity, balance, and a contemporary aesthetic inspired by the prestigious setting of Taj Art Gallery. The approach ensures strong visual impact while preserving elegance and coherence. The goal is to enhance artist visibility, strengthen storytelling, and create a unified communication experience that resonates with both national and international audiences.

A Heartfelt Tribute...

On behalf of Kala Samvad, we offer our deepest respect and heartfelt tribute to Ram V. Sutar, born on 19 February 1925 and who passed away on 18 December 2025. His passing is an immeasurable loss to the world of Indian art and sculpture. He was not only one of the greatest sculptors of India but also a national icon whose monumental creations will continue to inspire generations.

Kala Samvad feels truly privileged to had meaningful occasions of association and interaction with Shri Sutar Ji. His personality reflected rare qualities of greatness—simplicity, humility, discipline, and deep respect for fellow artists. Despite his global recognition and historic achievements, he always remained grounded and warmly connected to the artistic community.

One of the most memorable moments associated with him was the grand felicitation ceremony held in Mumbai in 2019, where Shri Ram V. Sutar Ji was honoured by more than 50 social and cultural organizations. The event was held at Lodha World Tower during Makar Sankranti and was graced by distinguished dignitaries including Maharashtra Minister Shri Sudhir Mungantiwar and MLA Shri Mangal Prabhat Lodha. Kala Samvad, under the coordination of its founder Shri Rajkumar Sharma, had the honour of being part of this historic celebration dedicated to a living legend.

An esteemed alumnus of Sir J. J. School of Art, Shri Sutar Ji elevated Indian sculpture to global prominence through unmatched vision, craftsmanship, and dedication. His most iconic masterpiece, the Statue of Unity, dedicated to Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, stands today as a global symbol of unity, strength, and national pride.

His other remarkable works, including statues of Mahatma Gandhi and Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, are not merely artistic creations but living representations of India's cultural heritage and values.

Shri Ram V. Sutar Ji was honoured with some of India's most prestigious awards, including the Padma Shri (1999), Padma Bhushan (2016), Tagore Award for Cultural Harmony (2016), and Maharashtra Bhushan (2024). These honours reflect the extraordinary magnitude of his contribution to Indian art and culture.

Today, on behalf of Kala Samvad, we bow our heads in deep gratitude and respect to this master sculptor. His legacy is eternal and will continue to guide, inspire, and uplift the world of art forever.
